'I Die For Country,' Declares Casement

LEADER OF REBELLION IN IRELAND IS HANGED

Former British Knight and Consul, Goes to His Death
Bravely, Say Few Who Saw
Treason Sentence. Executed

CROWDS ABOUT JAIL
WALLS MOAN AND JEER

Body Buried in Prison Ground
Despite Relatives' Appeals
That They Be Allowed to Take Possession of Remains

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Roger Casement
paid the penalty for treason today with his life. He was hanged at Pen-tenville prison at 9:07 a. m. Ten minutes later his body was cut down, life
being pronounced extinct.

The Irish leader's last words,
spoken while he waited fearlessly for
the drop to be sprung, were:
"I die for my country."
The Rochdale barber, Ellis, the prison's regular executioner, sprung
the drop after he had adjusted the hempen noose—not the "silk cord,"
which the former knight had insisted up to a few weeks ago would be granted as his instrument of death,
in accordance with the ancient privilege
granted men of his title.

The hanging was witnessed only by officials of the prison. A large crowd waited outside the goal and when the bell tolled announcing the law's satisfaction there were a few cheers, intermixed with groans. Several Irish women standing at the rear of the Pentenville jail attempted a demonstration, led by an Irish member of parliament, but were quickly hustled away by guards.

It was said Casement went calmly
to his death, led by a Catholic priest,
who ministered to him when he retired last night for the last time at 10:30 and when he arose early today, he was pronounced ready to be converted to Catholicism.

ACCOMPANIED BY PRIESTS.
Two Catholic priests, Fathers Ring
and Carey, heard Casement's last confession and administered holy communion. Both accompanied him to the scaffold.

Leaving his cell on the summons to death, the Irishman appeared slightly nervous, but there were no
signs of a breakdown and he smiled
gravely at his guard, remarking: "It is a beautiful morning."

As the party reached the shed where the gallows was erected the special executioner approached Casement and quickly plucked him. The two chaplains, the under sheriff of Middlesex,
and the under sheriff of Middlesex,
then took up their positions in front of the scaffold. Casement mounted the gallows steps firmly and commended his spirit to God as he stepped on the trap. A moment later the level was pulled.

Immediately the trap was sprung
the prison engineer and physician descended into the pit, where, after the application of the usual tests, Casement was pronounced dead at nine minutes after nine. According to the custom in the case of prisoners
hanged for crimes similar to that of Casement, his body will be buried in quick lime in the prison yard, but probably no decision as to the burial
will be made until after the inquest.

PRAYERS ARE SAID.
Several of the Irishmen in the crowd
outside the jail fell to their knees
and prayed fervently during the tol-
ling of the bell which announced Casement's death. On the other hand,
there were a few in the watchers, men
and women, waved hats and handkerchiefs.

Last night, guards said, Casement
spent considerable time in writing,
but slept soundly after he had retired.
Casement expected a reprieve and commutation of his sentence up to last night, but when darkness came he realized there was no hope, it was said, and without emotion went about settling his affairs in a clear voice.

MASTER OF HIMSELF.
Those who witnessed the hanging
said the Irishman was master of himself, walking to death and waiting for the noose to tighten. When the priest recited the prayers for the dead Casement responded in a clear
voice.

"Lord have mercy on my soul."
Casement was granted just one boon
before his death—and that was permission to wear his own clothes instead of the prison garb, to which he objected strongly on his incarceration
in the condemned cell. He did not wear a collar. He assisted the executioner in adjusting the noose and plunging his arms and legs.

Immediately after the execution
three notices were posted on the prison door. The first, signed by the under sheriff of London, the governor of the prison and Father James McCarrell, Casement's confessor, read:

"Judgment of death was this day

GALLOWS DEATH ENDS CAREER OF HIGHLY HONORED

Casement Once Served England Well, But Forfeited Life for Ireland.

Honored with knighthood—a title
since taken from him by King George's order—for his many years of service for Great Britain as Consul and Consul-General, Roger Casement assumed leadership, at a period of his country's crises, in the recent Irish rebellion, the plans for which were laid while Casement was in Berlin, where he was reported to have negotiated an understanding with the German imperial authorities.

In May Casement was given a preliminary hearing and was committed for trial on the charge of high treason. Late in June the trial was begun, Casement pleading not guilty and uttering a denial that he had worked in Germany's interests and that he had accepted German gold as a bribe.

The court's verdict was guilty, and
the sentence of death by hanging
after appeal by his counsel,
confirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeal, late in July.

The London press generally approved the fate legally fixed for Casement, but in America persistent efforts were made to save the noted prisoner from death. In Washington
a resolution was introduced in the Senate which would have President Wilson intercede with the British government, and numerous petitions received at the White House from many sources asking that a plea for clemency be cabled. The Senate resolution was not adopted. President Wilson took no official action. In England the Manchester Guardian
and a number of other papers pleaded for mercy and petitions asking for a reprieve were circulated in London.

Adherents of John Redmon forwarded to Premier Asquith a petition signed by six bishops, twenty-six members of Parliament and fifty-one other persons, including a number of educators.

Pope Benedict interceded in Case-ment's behalf, endeavoring to obtain grace for him from the British government, influential Irish nationalists
having urged upon the Pontiff that the prisoner was not a traitor, but
was inspired by Irish patriotism.
Roger Casement, prior to the war,
established a reputation through his investigation of the Congo and South American rubber atrocities committed on natives by Belgian and British rubber hunters. The then Sir Roger headed a commission of inquiry which brought about reforms.
In 1912 he became acting secretary
of the organization of the Irish national volunteers. He was in the United States when the war began and addressed an open letter to the Irish press advising Irishmen to remain neutral. In October, 1914, he went to Norway and thence to Berlin,
whence came the news that startled
the world—Casement was plotting
what his country looked upon as high treason.

OPERATIONS IN VERDUN SECTOR RESUMED AGAIN

Berlin War Statement Reports
Failure of Allies on West Front.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Fighting around Verdun today again took the center
of interest in the daily war reports.
From the Berlin and Paris war office reports it appeared that the French activity in this sector almost partook of a general offensive movement against the German army of the crown prince. Berlin admitted French troops yesterday captured
the village of Verdun, and the German counter-attacks against the trenches captured yesterday on the right bank of the Meuse which they asserted had been repulsed with heavy losses. "Important progress"
was claimed south of Verdun. Apparently there was a slight lull in the fighting along the Anglo-German front. General Haig merely reported artillery firing and stating that the British were consolidating their positions.

The German losses since July 30
have been so heavy, the French communique declares, that all their regiments have had to be reformed.
South of the Somme German counter-attacks south of Estrees were checked. On the right bank of the Meuse the German forces violently counter-attacked trenches captured
yesterday, but the official statement
relates they were everywhere checked
by the French fire, losing heavily.
Around Lechnols and Vauxchaer artillery firing continues actively, but there have been no infantry attacks.

In air reconnaissance on the Somme front Sergeant Chant of the French flying squad yesterday bagged two German aeroplanes, making a total of eight so far brought down by him, says
the French statement.

Another German aeroplane, it was stated, was defeated in an air combat near Chauny.

POLITICAL EXPEDIENCY.
No reason other than that of political expediency, has been offered to the men and women who devoted their lives to the important service for the community.
Both Supervisors Murphy and Heyer have viewed the subject with some suspicion that it might prove a raid upon their important patronage at the present county infirmary. This influence has long been the means of the infirmary subject, in spite of the fact that a compilation of registrations at the hospital for a period of six months shows that Oakland sends an average of 120 inmates per month to the institution while all of Eden, Murray, Westminster and Roseville townships, which include the towns
of Hayward, San Leandro, Livermore, Pleasanton, San Lorenzo, Irvington,
Niles and Centerville send less than Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. In June of this year, the report shows that Oakland sent 124, Berkeley 10, and Alameda 7
patients to the infirmary, while Liver-more sent 18, Pleasanton 9 and Hayward 1.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—Both British and French attacks on the west front
yesterday failed, according to today's war office statement.

Statesman's Widow
Weds High Churchman

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, widow of the late British statesman, and the Rev. William Hartley Carnegie, rector of St. Margaret's and Canon of Westminster, were married at Westminster Abbey at 3 o'clock this morning. The ceremony was very simple and quiet.

Mrs. Chamberlain before her marriage was Miss Mary Endicott of Massachusetts, daughter of the late William C.
Endicott, secretary of war in President Cleveland's Cabinet. She married Joseph Chamberlain when he was colonial secretary under the late Marquis of Salis-

SEE POLITICS IN HOSPITAL SITE DELAY

Welfare Commission and Many
Who Have Labored for Imperatively Needed Improvement Are Demanding Action

Hesitancy of Supervisors After Submission of Comprehensive Report Astounding to All Who Know Situation

"The supervisors want to avoid the hospital site as an issue at this time. There is no doubt about that. The Santa Fe Improvement club, urging the Breed & Bancroft four-acre site,
might make an issue against a candidate for office if a selection
were made before the primary. The Welfare Commission has selected the California College site in East Oakland and that selection is based upon figures which will stand any analysis. The matter of selecting a site is now squarely up to the supervisors. There is no more data available as a guide for them in making a selection. I know nothing of politics, but believe the delay is significant."

Engineer Markward, member of the Welfare Commission.
Advised that the reason the Supervisors have made no move to act upon the recommendation of the Public Welfare Commission in the matter of the new hospital site is because the candidate
members of the board desire no political issue at the polls on the subject, the members of that commission, who devoted weeks to the compilation of the report, are to make the inaction of the board a special order of business between now and August 23. A vigorous protest has already been registered at
the unwarranted delay and some members of the commission feel that their services, for which there is no compensation, have been used as political bait,
to quiet discussion, eliminate agitation
and confuse the critics of the county officials who had made the claim that nothing was being done.

In the face of two grand jury recommendations, widespread urging by civic organizations, and the final report of the commission that something should be accomplished at once, the entire matter has been in the files of the clerk of the board, inert, and shunned by the official supervisory eye.

MARSHAL MANY FACTS.

Long and detailed study of the subject
by the commission, the compilation of data on center of population by exact methods of statistical reference, the marshalling of facts over a period of years, the taking of the board, Engineer Orville Markward, who, as member of the commission, gave freely
of his time and scientific knowledge, Rev.
E. L. Parsons, Mrs. Duncan McDuffie,
Mrs. Annette Powers, Mrs. J. G. Harrison, C. B. Overacker and Elmer Dwyer
all have waited to witness some recognition of the labor in vain.

While none now cares to take the initiative in putting the breath of life
into the subject, the Down Town Property Owners' Association and the Taxpayers' League are both interested in knowing the logic of the delay and will probably send a delegation to the Supervisors to demand that the ordinary consensus of the community be shown by the commission and that some slight recognition
be afforded the report.

PROBES REGISTER.

Engineer Markward, who guided the commission in its analysis of population,
made a careful examination into the great
register of the county, precinct by predict, and supplied a result that cannot be questioned. Since January of this year that commission has been in active arm of the board. The new fiscal year of the county began last month
without official recognition of the report.
So carefully were the figures of the commission compiled that the center of population, as fixed at Oakland avenue and Pearl street, agrees with the data of all the east bay public service corporations
based as they are, on actual service connection, trend of travel and demand for power, light, heat and water.

Leaving no avenue for dispute, the commission, from a list of forty properties, endorsed five possible locations,
one at Grove and Allen streets; one at Twenty-sixth and San Pablo; the Boulton
Park and the California Baptist College.
Large delegations of citizens appeared before the board to supplement the recommendations of the commission and all were heard before the board took the entire subject under advisement. The final report of the commission centered on the California College site at Fourteenth avenue and East Twenty-ninth street.

Since then, March 23, the entire matter
has been in limbo.

ARMORY IS LOOTED OF VALUABLES

Battery "B" Lockers Broken by Thief, Who Steals Clothing
and Other Articles Left Behind by Guard When Leaving

Discovery Made by Keeper of Building, and Detectives
Take Up Hunt; Believe Theft
Made Possible by Automobile

Suits of clothes and personal belongings, variously estimated at from $500 to $2000 in value, the property of members of Battery B of the National Guard, now
at Noyes, Ariz., with the border troops,
were stolen by burglars, who looted the State Armory, at 639 Twenty-fourth street, some time during the past two weeks.

Discovery of the robbery was made today by Captain Meyer Herman, retired,
who was placed in charge of the local armory by Adjutant-General Thomas
when the troops left here for Sacramento.
Captain Herman reported the looting to the police, later submitting a report to Adjutant-General Thomas over the telephone.

A squad of police inspectors have been detailed on the case, headed by Bodie A.
Wallace, assistant to L. F. Agnew, captain of inspectors. The police say they have obtained no clues.

Search is being made for E. Wallace, who was given the keys to the armory
when the troops left Oakland for the Mexican border. He has not been seen for several weeks, although Captain Herman has often sought him that he might gain admittance to the armory.

DISCOVERED TODAY.

The wholesale looting was discovered
this morning, when Captain Herman boarded a special order of business between now and August 23. A vigorous
protest has already been registered at
the unwarranted delay and some mem-

Zepp Raid on England Fails Bombs Do No Damage, Says London

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The fourth German air raid on British east counties occurred early today, and, like previous excursions of like character, resulted in little damage, according to first official reports.

Six or seven Zeppelins formed the squadron. They dropped "a considerable number of bombs,"
according to the war office
statement, but exact reports of damage have not yet been received.

It is reported one of the raiders was hit and badly damaged
by anti-aircraft guns.

British patrols sighted the Zeppelins very soon after they reached points over British soil
and anti-aircraft guns opened at once. The dirigibles flew at heights of from 5000 to 5500
feet.

In the fourth air raid in less than seven days British patrols were able to sight the aerial invaders before they passed over British soil. Warnings were sent broadcast over the east coast counties long before the dirigibles appeared.

cisco police today.

Captain Duncan Matheson is convinced that the Oakland outrage was the product of an entirely different train from that which evolved the conspiracy here.

KOHN TO BE CHARGED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Julius Kohn, alias Kostner, the only remaining male suspect arrested in connection with the bomb outrage who has not been indicted, will be charged with criminal conspiracy, according to an announcement today by Captain Duncan Matheson. The efforts of the police to connect Kohn with the actual exploding of an infernal machine at Steuart and Market streets
during the preparedness parade have failed, but there is evidence, according to Matheson, tending to prove him
to be a party to a conspiracy to destroy life and property.

The indictments returned yesterday by the Grand Jury against Warren K. Billings, Edward D. Nolan, Ira Weinberg, Thomas J. Mooney
and Mrs. Mooney were assigned today
by Presiding Judge James H. Smith to three criminal departments of the superior court. Three of them were sent to Judge Frank Dunne, three to Judge Franklin Griffin, and the remaining two were held in Judge Ca-ballero's own court, which is devoted exclusively to criminal trials. The remaining thirteen departments of the superior court handle only civil cases
and unless special arrangements
should be made there cannot be more than three of the trials progressing at the same time.

Of all those in durationville Billings is the most baffling in his attitude. Smiling and apparently carefree in the greatest possible degree,
the alleged arch conspirator in the bomb outrage sits in his cell and seems actually to enjoy his incarceration.
After denying that he had given out an interview to the public press, he stated that he had absolutely declined to talk last night, he began a dissertation upon literature as contained in current magazine writings.

LIKES JACK LONDON.

"I am a great reader," he said. "I like the magazines. I think my favorite author is Jack London. He has a punch to his stuff, but I like a good many others, too many to mention in detail."

An effort here to transfer the conversation to bomb plots almost failed.
"I should worry," responded Billings. "I don't care what happens,
because I know they can't do anything to me. I don't care if I stay here for two years. I have got more time than anything else anyway. You know I am like that. I take things
as they come."

Billings said that he had a fair
grammar school education, and that he had so far managed to get along very nicely.

"But I have got a religion all my own," he hastened to add. "It's very comforting and very consoling. I look cheerful, don't I? Sure I do and that's the way I feel."

MOONEY FRETFUL.

Mooney was the chief complainant
against his prosecutors.
"For six days I haven't been able to see a soul. Here I have been in this cell. Hundreds of people have passed by and taken a look at me,
just as though I were an Egyptian mummy in a museum. Even the guards have been forbidden to talk to me. Only the district attorney's staff and these special bomb plot
detectives must talk to me. Last night
I saw some of my relatives, my brother and my sister-in-law, and they told me a few things that have been published."

"I am innocent and my wife is innocent, but we are in a trying situation. There is no question about that. I realize our plight when I know that my wife has been identified as having been near where the bomb
was exploded, although all the time
she was in the room of the building where her studio is located. We know
she was there, but nevertheless it's awful to have somebody identify you as being some place else. I would like to make a statement and I may later on, but I think I had better see a lawyer first."

SECURITIES RELEASED.
LONDON, August 3.—Without waiting the right it claims to seize international securities as contraband,
the government has decided to release a number of such consignments and permit them to be forwarded to their neutral destinations.

Among these are securities of enumerable origin, amounting to several million dollars, passing in the mails
between Holland and certain houses in the United States.

TENNESSEE CLOUDBURST TAKES LIVES

Torrent Falls Into Blair's Creek, Sweeping Homes of 150 Families, While Toll of Dead Is Between 15 and 25

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Aug. 3.—Between fifteen and twenty-five persons were drowned and enormous property damage was sustained by a cloudburst on Blair's Creek near Tazewell, Tenn., last night, according to information received here today. Telephone messages say about 150 persons lived along the creek and of these only a few have been accounted for.

Nine bodies have been recovered. City officials have organized rescue parties. The region is very rough and communication is difficult. Blair's Creek is ten miles long and it is estimated that of the 150 persons who lived in this neighborhood only 100 were directly in the path of the cloudburst, and endangered by the waters in the creek overflowing its banks. Blair's Creek became swollen from a rain starting at 8 o'clock last night and after a cloudburst at 2 o'clock this morning swept everything before it. Nearly every house within an area of six miles by one mile was washed away.

The dead so far reported are: Bob Johnson, wife and two children, Mrs. Sam Wiley and two children, Rush Hugeson and wife, bodies re-

U. S. Has Diver Palm, Asserted Frenchman Says Amer- ican Crossed Ocean

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—A fleet of American-made submarines crossed the Atlantic six months before the arrival of the German blockade diver Deutschland, according to a statement made here by Louis Roquette, under secretary in the department of commerce, France.

Submarines made the voyage under their own power from New York to Toulon, France, Roquette stated. The submarines slipped out quietly from a point near New York.

The trip was made in fourteen days without incident. The under secretary declared the delivery of the American submarines in this manner was well known in French naval and governmental circles.

Roquette is here on official business in connection with the French display at the San Diego exposition.

MCCOY NAMED CHIEF.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 3.—By order of Brigadier General James Parker last night Captain Frank R. McCoy of the Third Cavalry is named chief of staff of the army corps assembled in the lower Rio Grande valley.

McCoy's two children are believed drowned, but the bodies have not been recovered.

The home of Crockett Edwards was washed away. No trace of Edwards and his wife and four children has been found.

Two bridges on the Southern railroad between Middlesboro and Knoxville were washed out. Train service will be delayed at least twenty-four hours.

The property damage will amount to several thousands of dollars.

DE FACTO TROOPS CAPTURE OUTLAWS

Important Leaders of Villa Cause in Hands of Carranza.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., Aug. 3.—Several important Villista leaders have been captured or have surrendered to government troops within the last few days, General Jacinto Trevino announced today. Among the prisoners taken at Cuernavaca and brought here today were Gabriel Valdivieso, a former Villa general; Gregorio Caso, formerly a Villa lieutenant-colonel, and two so-called lieutenants.

General Illario Rodriguez reported from La Mancha that he has received the surrender of Luzaro Avalos, who held a general's commission under Villa, together with 61 men, while Tereso Morales, a so-called colonel, with 45 men, also has given himself up. Colonel Jesus Leal, chief of staff to General Trevino, left today for an inspection trip to Saltillo, Torreon and Monterrey, preliminary to the disposition of some of the forces of the army of the Northeast.

Juan Amador, Mexican Politician, Near Death

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Unofficial information reached the State Department today that Juan Amador, the Mexican under secretary for foreign affairs, who has been ill, was in a critical condition. Amador played an important part unofficially in the conference last May between General Scott and General Obregon, his position being generally regarded as antagonistic to the American objects. It was suggested by officials that his condition might be a factor in the delay at Mexico City in arranging details for appointment of a joint commission to consider border problems.

ROOKIES ON BORDER DUTY ARE MAIMED BY SNIPERS Returning Militiamen Bring Stories of Bra- very, Humor and Pathos

The first returning party of California National Guardsmen reached here yesterday bearing with it the story of the hardships and humor of camp life and the tale of the first months at the border where in oppressive heat and heavy rains they patrolled the border. Word of the embarking, the encampment and camp life was brought by R. D. Denny, a member of Company A, Fifth Regiment, and one of the party of seven newboys who enlisted at the first call.

"We did not have anything out of the ordinary," said Denny today, "until after we left Sacramento for the front. It was then our troubles began. We ate in any way we could and after a tiresome journey of three days our forces reached Nogales, Arizona, where we started to pitch camp. The camp sites were not of the best and at times we were short of water and also of food but we had gotten used to the short rations because during the three days on the railroad we had too many men for the amount of rations parceled out to our regiment.

"In a short time we got used to the food and the water was not so bad. We had no regular mess tent we managed to get along and slowly got used to the heat. It was usually about 105 to 110 in the shade and we did our patrol duty with our shirts off. Most of the boys suffered a little from the heat but the sunburn and blisters wore off in time and we settled down to work.

LONG HOURS ON DUTY. "Our day consisted of several distinct periods. At five o'clock we arose. At 6 we had mess. Sick call was sounded at 6:45 and at 7 o'clock we started out on our morning's drill. We marched a mile and a half to the parade grounds and drilled until 12 o'clock. Lunch was served and at 1 o'clock we drilled again, returning for patrol duty at 2 o'clock. From 2 until 5 p. m. we walked along the streets of Nogales staring at the Carranza soldiers who held the other side of the street—Nogales, Mexico. We returned at 6 and ate and were then free to do as we pleased until 11, when tattoo was sounded.

"Our pastime consisted in going through the town where there were a few cantinas and a couple of skating rinks. A picture show did a rushing business, and the rest of the pleasure was derived by tossing some of the men up in blankets. On one occasion the blanket fell and the unfortunate 'rookie' dropped to the ground. He was not severely injured.

MAIMED BY SNIPERS. "We were bothered once in a while by 'snipers,' and one of the Oakland newboys had his hand shot off. I was shot in the leg, but it healed quickly, and I was allowed to come home with a party of twenty because of bad eyes and teeth. There are about 550 in all from our regiments who have been turned home because of injury or sickness. The married men wishing to return to their homes will do so in about a month.

"There was one bad thing and that was the typhoid inoculation. This was given in three separate doses, and upon the third dose several of the boys were taken ill with fits and had to be removed to the hospital, where they are still confined.

"There is considerable rain at this time of the year, and four nights ago there was a regular cloudburst in which our entire camp was flooded and four fellows were crazed by lightning, one of which I believe was Sam Black, one of the newboys.

"ROOKIE" DIVES FOR LETTERS. "The entire camp and town of Nogales is under martial law and the Mexican patrol their duty as we do. Once the marshal of Nogales was arrested by the Mexicans when he pursued a German spy across the line.

"During the rainstorm the general's private correspondence and books were washed away and into the river. One of the boys, Sam Appleton, swam after them and saved most of the material. The general said he would be rewarded.

"Last Sunday we dug trenches for the regulars, and I suppose this was to give us practice at that kind of work, but I didn't quite think it was right. But we didn't mind as long as there is some fun. One of the boys was doing guard duty along the railroad. He told us how a Mexican had come along the road and was seen to carry two bottles of beer. The following conversation took place:

BEER PROVES PASSPORT. "Halt, who goes there?" "A friend." "Friend—advance ten paces and be recognized. With arms or without?" "With beer." "All right. Drop one bottle and pass on." "There has been no skirmish duty as yet, but once each month every company has to do mounted patrol duty. We have already been given out 21 rounds of ammunition."

Some of the camps have a more varied program, which is shown by the following letter, sent by Ivan McWhiney to his mother in this city:

"Dear Mother: Just received your letter and was very glad to hear from you. "I had no idea what the weather was like down here. This is their rainy season. It was awful hot this morning and was raining when we were eating lunch and the sun is shining again now. It is that way every day but it never rains more than an hour although we hear thunder and lightning all day. "Last Monday lightning struck a tent five rows over from us, laying out eight fellows and killing one. It is sure pretty down here nights to see the lightning and there is an awful pretty sunset every night.

CANDY AND CAKE A-PLenty. "I want to thank you very much for the dollar and candy certainly does go good down here. Win and Marian sent me a box with candy and cake in it about two weeks ago. I also got a box of candy from a girl I know in Oakland Wednesday, so we have been pretty well supplied lately. "Whether there is war or not, I don't

BANDIT RUMOR IS BELIEVED MISTAKE

General Bell, After Reports of Funston, Discredits Stories From Border.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Major-General Funston reported today that no trace could be found of the band of Mexican raiders reported yesterday to have crossed into American territory near Fort Hancock, Tex. His message follows:

"General Bell makes reports that commanding officer of the cavalry sent to Finlay last night states that he had locally where 150 Mexicans were reported to have been seen thoroughly scouted, and saw no signs of any raiders. General Bell is inclined to believe that the report of presence of Mexican bands is a mistake."

Pay Car Arrives to Pay Guardsmen

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 3.—A quarter of a million dollars arrived here today and California militiamen prepared to receive their first pay for soldiering. Guardsmen have 41 days' salary coming to them. The officers' payroll for the camps here is $10,000.

Costs $64,000 Mexican Money for One Hat

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 3.—Honesty now, how would you like to fork over $6500 for a suit of clothes? Shell out $64,000 for a Panama hat? Sell $5000 just to have your trunk moved? These are prices and charges they hurl at you down in the City of Mexico when you try to use Carranza currency as a medium of exchange. Thomas Randolph, chairman of the board, National Bank of Commerce, is authority for the statement that these prices really do exist, the information having been sent him in a letter he received from a friend in Brownsville, Tex.

CASEMENT'S CAREER ENDS ON GALLOWES

Former British Knight and Consul Goes to His Death Bravely, Say Few Who Saw Treason Sentence Executed

executed on Roger David Casement in his majesty's prison of Pentonville in our presence." A similar notice was given by the under sheriff of Middlesex county. The third bore the name of P. R. Mander, the prison surgeon, who certified that he had examined the body and found Casement dead.

SHOWS NO CONCERN.

Casement showed not the slightest concern over his fate. He sat well and chatted freely and cheerily with two warders in his condemned cell. All the members of Casement's family were Protestants and he was brought up in that faith, but became a convert to Roman Catholicism within the last few weeks. On June 29 he was registered as a member of the Roman Catholic Church and after that time Father McCarrell and Carey of Eden Grove Church, near the prison, ministered to him. He received his first and only communion at 7 o'clock this morning when he assisted at mass in his cell. One of his attendants said that his overpowering love for God and Ireland was most striking.

Father McCarrell said that he found Casement to be a beautiful character and that he never instructed any one in his religion who showed himself a quicker or more promising learner.

MANY PLEAS MADE.

The government turned a deaf ear to all pleas for commutation of the degraded knight's sentence. Petitions have been coming in at the home office for weeks. It was in answer to these that Lord Robert Cecil asserted that no doubt existed as to the Irishman's guilt and that the only ground on which commutation could be based would be political expediency—a difficult ground to put forth in this country.

Solicitor Gavin Duffy, who was Casement's counsel, was indignant at refusal of the prison authorities immediately to turn over the body of the Irish knight after the law had been satisfied.

"Representing the deceased's relatives at the inquest," he said, "I applied to the home office for possession of the body. Their refusal to turn it over to me was a monstrous act of indecency."

Prison Governor Davis testified at the inquest that Casement's death was instantaneous.

Who then Sir Roger Casement was hanged on April 22, after having landed on the Irish coast from a German submarine which was conveying a German tramp steamer loaded with arms and ammunition for Irish revolutionists. Three days later the Dublin revolt broke out.

SAYS NO EVIDENCE.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Denying that there was any evidence at the trial of Roger Casement, executed in London today, connecting the accused knight "in any way with the uprising in Ireland," Michael Francis Doyle, American lawyer, who defended him, issued a statement here this afternoon in answer to that of Lord Robert Cecil yesterday.

"In the use of the Irish uprising and the unfortunate circumstances connected with the execution, is absolutely uncalled for. The eight counts in the indictment referred to acts committed by Casement in Germany. Therefore the only persons who would be called as witnesses for the defense would have to be brought from Germany. Sir Emery Blackwell, under secretary for home affairs, informed me the government would not permit this to be done."

ENGLAND EXCITED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—"We expect barbarism from barbarians," declared Senator Martine today, excoriating Great Britain for its execution of Roger Casement.

DEMAND ACTION ON HOSPITAL SITE

Engineer and Others Criticise Delays Practiced by Supervisors.

11. For the six months' period Oakland never sent less than 115 per month while the ratio from Livermore in February and March fell to 3, Pleasanton in April to 2 and Hayward in February to 8. San Lorenzo, Niles and Irvington for months send no patients to the institution.

One of the most important details of the infirmary, declare members of the welfare commission, is the clinic, affording treatment to many who need only temporary relief or examination. The vast majority of such patients now make the long trip to San Leandro, unless facilities are afforded at the receiving hospital. The number, however, is sufficient to bring the Oakland average far above that of any other section of the county.

"Our impression was that the work of the commission was to be a guide for immediate selection of a site by the board," said Rev. Parsons today. "The work was done with exacting care so that the board would not be subjected to criticism in making its selection of a new site. All available data was employed upon the theory that the supervisors were ready to select a building site and that they wanted the information at once," said Engineer Markward in speaking of the delay. "It is merely a case of political expediency. The majority on the board, Murphy, Mullins and Heyer want to side step the issue until after the campaign. Personally, welcome it. I think the Welfare Commission report is scientific, impartial and exact," said Supervisor Fred Foss. "The selection should be made at once, for the board will never have any better information on the subject than now."

MOONEYS KEPT TAB ON U. R. MEN

Wife of Alleged Bomb Plotter Expects Compositions to Defray Expenses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Thomas J. Mooney, music teacher, labor agitator and bomb plot suspect charged with murder, is the only member of the quintette soon to be placed on trial for their lives who was willing to make a statement at length today regarding the accusations against her. She said:

"They tell me they will try my husband first. If I thought he were guilty then I would let them do so, but being innocent like myself, we will be tried together. They are doing this because we are organizing the car men. We have written three letters to every car man on the United Railroads."

RECORD OF EVERY MAN.

"We have a record of every car man on the road, the barn he works in, his seniority, standing, his address, his telephone, whether he is married, if he owns property. If he ever belonged to a union before, if he broke the 1907 strike, whether he was imported or local, his politics, etc."

"We had intended to first visit carmen who were registered Socialists, but we found that nearly every strike-breaker was registered as a Socialist. They are not Socialists and are only registered so to lead you into their confidence. Warren Billings was arrested because he helped the machine in their strike. Ed Nolan was arrested because he conducted that strike. Weinberg was arrested because his little boy takes piano, violin and class lessons from me and made so much progress that the Weinbergs could not do enough for us in appreciation."

Ask Dr. Castle, surgeon, Sutter street, if Mrs. Weinberg doesn't do the same for him. Dr. Castle's wife takes piano of me."

"I do not know why they arrested Mrs. Levin. This is a labor case and not a murder case. I will keep my studio just as it is. PICTURE FOR ROGUE'S GALLERY Mrs. Mooney was interrupted in writing her statement at this point by the officials of the identification bureau, who took her to be photographed for the rogues' gallery. Her husband and the other suspects had preceded her and all had completed their Bertillon finger prints for the police record."

"There wasn't much more I intended to write. I believe I will spend my time in prison writing music. I think I can make enough money in this way to pay for our defense and to keep us going during this trying period. There is no need for me to say that we are all innocent and that this is all a plot against us. I am trying to keep cheerful and as you see I am succeeding pretty well. It's hard on a woman, but sometimes I think she can bear more than a man and I feel worse for my husband than I do for myself. It is the separation that hurts. I can't tell what he is thinking and how he is standing it all."

Belgian Cardinal Says Germans Cruel

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Cardinal Luçon, archbishop of Rheims, has sent a statement to Pope Benedict relative to the alleged inhuman treatment of the population of the invaded regions of Northern France by the German authorities. The cardinal urges Pope Benedict to use his high influence "to secure a renunciation of such conditions, which are manifestly contrary to humanity, international conventions, the rights of nations and morality."

MOOSERS IN SEARCH FOR NEW CHIEF

Prominent Men of Progressive Party Meet to Try and Obtain Someone to Run at Head of Ticket in Presidential Fight

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 3.—Representatives of the Progressive party from a score of states met here today prepared to protest formally against the action of the Bull Moose national committee in endorsing Charles E. Hughes for President in Chicago, July 26, and to consider the advisability of calling another convention to fill the vacancy in its national ticket caused by the declaration of Theodore Roosevelt to accept the nomination for President. The conference was called by John M. Parker of Louisiana, nominee of the Progressive party for Vice-President.

The representatives of one element of the party, led by Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis, were outspoken for the assembling of the Progressive national convention at an early date to nominate a candidate for President to run with Parker. Another faction regarded this plan as impractical and was prepared to urge issuance of a call for a new convention to complete the national ticket. Influential Bull Moose leaders from several states expressed themselves as opposed to both these plans on the ground that they had no available candidate for President and that the time was not sufficient to organize for a national campaign.

EXPECT CRITICISM

All present, however, were unanimous that the national committee at its meeting in Chicago had exceeded its authority and violated the party's principles in endorsing the candidacy of another political organization for President. It is expected that before the conference adjourns resolutions will be adopted criticizing the national committee for endorsing Hughes for President. If an attempt should be made to have the conference endorse the candidacy of President Wilson for re-election there is every indication that it will be voted down, as the members declare such a course would be inconsistent after the protest made against the support accorded Hughes by a majority of the national committee.

The only names mentioned for the head of the Bull Moose ticket were Victor M. McKendall of Kansas, who has declined the honor, and Bainbridge Colby of New York.

Lack of available candidates for President appears to be one of the most potent arguments of the minority against the calling of another convention. Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis said:

"We want a national ticket. We do not care who is nominated for President just so we have somebody to vote for in November. The conference has the right to reassemble the national convention and complete the ticket and that is what should be done."

Parker said:

"My only desire is to see the Progressive party left alive as a national political organization. I am not a politician. Principles mean more to me than men in this movement. My object in calling this conference was to have a frank, open discussion of the events in the sincere hope that some plan may be devised by which the Progressive party will be perpetuated for the public good. I realize it will be difficult to get practically impossible to name a candidate for President at this late date but I want to see if something cannot be done."

Miss Sarah E. Lyons of Minneapolis, who represents Minnesota at the conference, is favorable to putting a national ticket in the field.

Among those present were: John M. Parker of Louisiana, Bainbridge Colby of New York, Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, J. A. Hopkins of New Jersey, Judge Albert D. Norton of St. Louis, Joseph P. Fontnor of Kansas City, Progressive candidate for governor of Missouri, J. A. La Follette of Kansas City, H. H. Haiman of Warrenton, Mo., Progressive candidate for Congress against Speaker Champ Clark; Henry H. Griffiths of Iowa, C. W. Hoffman of Michigan, M. R. Hannan of Ohio, J. M. McCormick of Texas, C. W. McClure of Georgia, E. R. Gungy of Florida, Miss Sarah E. Lyons of Minnesota; Thomas A. Dalley, Progressive candidate for governor of Indiana, and Edwin M. Lee, state chairman of Indiana.

SUFFRAGE FUND TO ASSIST HUGHES

Unless Democratic Congress Declares for Amendment, Wilson Will Lose Support.

DENVER, Aug. 3.—One hundred thousand dollars, the influence of the National Woman's Party will be cast into the balance in favor of Charles Evans Hughes and against President Wilson if the Democrats fail to pass the Federal suffrage amendment at the present session of Congress.

Miss Anne Martin, chairman of the Woman's Party, stated to the United Press here today:

"We must judge the Democratic party on its performance and the Republican party on its promises. Just as we hold President Wilson to a strict accountability for his suffrage record, so will we hold Governor Hughes to his promise of national suffrage, if he is elected."

"The leaders of the Woman's Party are no babes in the woods. We realize that politics and hope of victory may have had a great deal to do with the change in Governor Hughes toward favoring national suffrage. But we have not even a promise from the Democrats, as leader of his party, Governor Hughes will keep his word. The party that secures the political freedom of all women will inevitably win the undying loyalty and adherence of the women voters. Will the Democrats give this great opportunity to the Republican party?"

Miss Martin is directing efforts to raise a $100,000 campaign fund for the Woman's Party. Anticipating no satisfactory action from the Democrats, Miss Martin stated that plans have been practically completed for a vigorous campaign by the Woman's Party in the twelve suffrage States in behalf of the Republican party.

"I, myself, am a Democrat," said Miss Martin. "I would like to vote for President Wilson, but as a member of the Woman's Party my first intent is to secure national woman suffrage."

Two organizers of the Woman's Party and of the Congressional Union for woman suffrage have actually been at work for months in each of the equal suffrage States. One is in charge of State headquarters and works in co-operation with the State and Congressional district chairmen. The second organizer travels around the State and arranges meetings for a corps of speakers routed from national headquarters in Chicago.

Miss Martin expects the conference of the Woman's Party in Colorado Springs, August 10-12, formally to declare for Hughes. Afterward, the woman's campaign will be directly pointed to help elect him.

Bull Moose Pioneer Is Booth Supporter

REDDING, Aug. 3.—James H. Tibbitts of Redding, mining engineer and former assemblyman in the northern part of the state, who was one of the original members of the Bull Moose party in California, has announced his return to the Republican fold, and is now earnestly advocating the candidacy of Willis H. Johnson as against Governor Hiram W. Johnson for the United States Senate.

In a letter to H. F. Baker of the Redding Searchlight, Tibbitts expresses himself as follows:

"I am writing this letter to say that I had the pleasure Saturday in the Palace Hotel of listening to Hon. Willis H. Johnson, a candidate for the United States Senate from the South.

"I am now convinced if a man wants to stay before the people and be with the people any length of time, he must revert back to one of the old line parties. My experience in politics is that it has been in the past in mining. If a miner has a shoot of ore and it is gold bearing, and he desires the commercial value from the same under an economical process, he must revert to the old stamps. The South is entitled to a United States Senator and Willis H. Johnson is the man for the job."

Machine Guns Are Distributed to Militia

EL PASO, Aug. 3.—The first machine guns to be distributed to the militia were turned over yesterday to the division, Pennsylvania National Guard, encamped here. Also for the first time in the army motor trucks were substituted for horses in carrying guns and equipment. Special instruction will be given the Pennsylvanians in the use of the guns.

These guns were manufactured in the United States for the British, but were taken over by the war department during the recent Mexican crisis.

Anglers Cross State Line to Swap Ponds

LA CROSSE, Wis., Aug. 3.—Fishermen in La Crosse and vicinity are going to "swap" ponds with Minnesota fishermen.

The biggest fish are always where fishermen aren't—so Minnesota anglers want to fish in Wisconsin and the Wisconsin fishermen want to go to Minnesota.

Through efforts of the La Crosse County Hunting and Fishing association, an agreement has been made whereby Wisconsin fishermen can follow their sport in the neighboring state without procuring a Minnesota license.

Before the agreement many Wisconsin men had been arrested and fined the limit at Caladonia, Minn., for violating the law.

POTATOES SWEET, INDEED.

GRAND, Ala., Aug. 3.—With M. S. Baughman, law agent in charge of the lower railroad operations in this county, a band of about 100 men, some of whom were armed with loaded guns, appeared daily ploughing up 120 plots of potatoes in a sweet potato patch four miles from this town. Some of the corks of the bottles were found blown out, believed to have been done to the effects of the extremely hot weather recently.

Woman Close to Congress Fight

Dr. Eva Harding of Kansas Seeks Seat

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 3.—Dr. Eva Harding, leading woman physician in Topeka, Kansas, reformer, suffragette since babyhood, and first woman seeker for the nomination for Congress, wondered today if she really had been nominated. The Kansas primaries were held two days ago, but the count has been so close and so slow that the official result probably will be necessary to decide the contest.

A Topeka minister, Rev. H. J. Corwin, is Dr. Harding's opponent for the Democratic nomination in the First Congressional district. Dr. Harding is the first woman to seek a nomination for Congress from either of the two major parties. She sought the nomination on the Democratic ticket out of "sheer gratitude," she says.

"The Democrats gave the Kansas women the franchise and I could not do anything else than be a Democrat; besides I don't believe in the tariff anyhow," she said.

Dr. Harding was born in Springfield, Ohio, in 1859. Her girlhood was spent in Lafayette, Ind. In 1882 she was graduated from Hahnemann medical college, Chicago, and at once came to Topeka, where she has been prominent among Kansas reformers.

"I have been a suffragette for 59 years; my parents knew Susan B. Anthony intimately and I could not have been anything else had I wanted to," Dr. Harding declared. "I have never married and I am thankful for that, too. It is such a terrible risk. While I have had the name of being a very brave woman I was never brave enough to take a cruise on the sea of matrimony."

If Dr. Harding is nominated she will campaign against J. R. Anthony, Leavenworth, whom the Republicans have named for Congress from the First district.

STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEER TO U. S.

Fletcher Goes to Federal Bureau at Request of Secretary of Agriculture.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 3.—A furlough of a month and a half has been granted to State Highway Engineer Austin B. Fletcher by Governor Hiram W. Johnson and the State Highway Commission during which he will assist the federal government in organizing the work of the new road bureau through which the United States will expend $55,000,000 in the construction of rural post and other roads.

This leave of absence from his post as head of the department which is constructing the California Highways was granted at the request of Secretary of Agriculture D. F. Houston, Washington, D. C.

Secretary Houston found himself confronted with a huge task in the organizing of the department to handle the $55,000,000 work and he promptly called upon Governor Johnson to lend California's highway engineer to him.

Secretary Houston said the state, in granting the request of the secretary of agriculture, was actuated by a desire to assist the federal government in this road-building project.

Derrick Arm in Fall Cuts Houses

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—The sword of Damocles had nothing on an old derrick back of the Pacific Electric building, which revolved from its customary duties of hoisting yesterday and severed two small houses as a big knife would cut a cake of cheese.

The derrick, which has been playing a prominent part in the erection of the Pacific Electric elevated tracks, was being moved from one scene of activity to another. Its big arm was poised upward at an angle of 30 degrees as the derrick was being rolled down Maple avenue, between Sixth and Seventh.

The cable that held up the massive arm loosened and it fell like a guillotine. When it struck the ground—folks saw that where two houses had stood a moment before, apparently there were four.

The derrick arm had cut the two houses from roof to foundation as clean as a knife.

The passersby and workmen rushed into the houses, but found the occupants uninjured.

Will Drive Sonora Mine Deeper

SONORA, Aug. 3.—Joseph Cadamartori, superintendent of the Springfield Tunnel and Development Company, has just returned from San Francisco, where he placed an order for three new powerful drills of the water-lifter type. These will be placed in the face of the big drainage tunnel at the company's works, west of Columbia, and the tunnel will be driven steadily ahead.

A loggish drift has been run from raise No. 2, which has connected with workings on what was formerly the Ranch Mine property, but which now belongs to the Springfield Tunnel Company. This was run for the purpose of getting air and exploring this section of the channel system. Rich gravel has been found at different points in these drifts, but water will interfere with it being worked economically. But extending the tunnel and tapping the gravel by a raise, it can be worked at much greater profit and the water probably entirely dispensed with.

Publicity Man Held on Felony Charge

SONORA, Aug. 3.—Charles E. Carroll, publicity manager in a recent contest conducted by one of the newspapers of Sonora, was brought back from Los Angeles by Sheriff Sweeney to answer to a charge of felony embezzlement preferred against him by C. P. Jones. It is charged that Carroll as agent for the collection of subscription money for himself $1310. Carroll is also wanted upon the complaint of Charles Connelly of Tuolumne, who asserts that upon the solicitation of the agent he paid $250 upon the promise of Carroll that Miss Dell Connelly, one of the contestants, would be the winner of the first prize, an automobile. The young lady lost out, and the late father demands either an automobile or the return of his $250.

OAKLAND TO ASK HUGHES TO SPEAK

Republicans Launch Plans for Meeting Here During Western Tour.

Charles Evans Hughes, Republican nominee for the presidency of the United States, may make an address to the electorate of Alameda county. Plans for an Oakland meeting at which the former justice will be invited to speak, were launched last night by the Republican County Central Committee.

A delegation, consisting of Joseph F. Carlston, Peter J. Crosby, Joseph R. Knowland and Dr. O. D. Haimlin, delegates and alternates to the national Republican convention, and Clinton G. Dodge, chairman of the county committee, with George E. Reed, county committeeman, was named last night to visit the Republican State Central Committee with a tender of the Oakland program for Hughes.

At this time the nominee is making his plans for the western swing and it is accepted as certain that he will speak in San Francisco. With this in mind the local committee, through the State committee, will present to the national campaign committee its invitation to the jurist, statesman and party leader.

ALAMEDA COUNTY'S CLAY.

Alameda county's special claim is to be based upon the heavy Republican vote given to the regular ticket in the presidential primary and upon the effort now being made to keep it the banner Republican county of the state.

Following a resolution passed at the meeting a week ago, the law committee reported last night that there is no authority under the election laws of the state for any endorsements to candidates by the county committee as such. The duties of the committee are confined to conducting the campaign as a body on behalf of the party candidates when the same are determined at the primary.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee in charge of club organization, consisting of Charles Murrell and Walter B. Fawcett, last night reported for certification the Claremont Republican club which is now affiliated with the central organization. About eight other clubs are so affiliated and it is expected that some thirty will soon be included in the Republican chain of district clubs.

FARM BOARD CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The Senate yesterday confirmed unanimously the nominations of Charles E. Lobdell, Great Bend, Kan.; George W. Norris of Philadelphia; W. S. A. Smith, Sioux City, Ia.; and Herbert Quick, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., as members of the new farm loan board. There was no opposition.

AUTO THUGS FIRE ON UNION AGENT

Chicago Man Wounded, Wife's Hat Shot Off by Assassins.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—In a running attack in which automobiles figured, Richard J. Shields, business agent for the Electrical Workers' Union, local No. 134, was shot and probably fatally wounded. His wife, who was riding with him, had her hat shot off. Fifteen or twenty shots were fired from an automobile containing five men, which closely pursued Shields and his wife.

Shields, who figured in the recent labor conspiracy trials, and his wife were driving in the northern part of the city when the attack was made. The identity of Shields' assailants had not been learned early today.

The fund was originally left by Gideon Howland in 1823 in trust with Sylvia Howland, a cousin of Hetty Green. Upon the death of Sylvia the money was left in trust with Mrs. Green to revert to the Howland heirs at her demise.

Attorney Fred L. Button, Mrs. J. H. Hulbert, Mrs. Charles F. Warner, W. P. Howland, Edward Howland and H. P. Howland of Oakland and Mrs. William Finnell, Mrs. Clara Leacock and Benjamin F. Howland of Berkeley are the local representatives of the Gideon Howland descendants who are to share in the million and a half. There are over ten thousand heirs.

BOMB MEN SEEK LIFE OF INSPECTOR

Seattle House Blown Up; Couple in Front Room Escape Death.

SEATTLE, Aug. 3.—A bomb placed in the rear of the home of Joseph M. Jarvis, an employee of the Alaska Steamship Company, residing at 611 West Sixteenth street, wrecked the back part of the house at 9:30 last night, but Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis, who were in a front room, escaped injury. Jarvis reported to the police that he ran out immediately after the explosion and saw an automobile without lights and carrying two men speeding away from the house.

Jarvis, who has been working as a timber inspector supervising the loading of material for the United States railroad in Alaska, said that he had some trouble with men on the waterfront, who complained that he had discriminated against them. He said he did not connect the explosion with the waterfront strike.

Water Front Lease Advantage to Be Told Voters in Pictures.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 3.—Motion pictures are to be used by the Alameda Chamber of Commerce to educate the voters in favor of granting a lease of municipal waterfront land to the Union Iron Works. The committee of thirty appointed by the chamber to arouse public sentiment had a cinematographer at work all of today, filming the various phases of work being done at the shipyards. The pictures will be shown in all the photoplay theaters of this city today, Friday, Saturday and Monday.

In addition to this "movie" campaign, the chamber is arranging to hang fifty banners on automobiles, urging the voters to go to the polls and approve the lease, and to hang a tag on every voter.

Stereopticon slides also are being prepared for the motion picture theaters, showing how taxes will be reduced by the grant of the lease. The chamber has prepared figures showing the resultant increase in assessable property and decrease in tax rate.

ported as Bandits.

EL PASO, Aug. 3.—Five hundred government troops, under General Murguía, have arrived from the south and patrolling the frontier along the Chihuahua-Coahuila border and south of the Big Bend district of Texas General Francisco Gouzales announced in Juarez today. These troops have established camp about thirty miles south of Boquillas, Texas, and their presence probably gave rise to recent reports that large bodies of bandits were in the section.

Investigation having failed to substantiate reports that bandits crossed the Rio Grande near Fort Hancock, Texas, yesterday, the troops sent from here were ordered to return today.

Reports received in Juarez from San Ygnacio, Chihuahua said that Captain Morales Merced had returned there with Mateo Marcano had returned there with the detachment of government troops which pursued the two Mexican bandits who escaped after the engagement near Fort Hancock, Texas, last Monday. The trail was lost in the desert, he said, and the pursuit was abandoned.

Terrific Battering of Teuton Defenses Continues Despite Desperate Counter-Attacks by Infantry and Artillery

PETROGRAD, Aug. 3.—The battering of Teuton defenses along the Kovel-Lemberg line showed no signs of abatement today. Unofficial dispatches from the front said the Russian forces were mixing infantry attacks with heavy artillery bombardment in a series of battles at various points. German counter-attacks in rapid succession are being launched against the Russian columns so far without success, except temporarily halting the forward movement of the Russians.

Press dispatches today said General Kaledine was less than a dozen miles from Lemberg and continuing his advance. He is threatening momentarily to take the Kovel-Lemberg railroad, spreading still wider the Russian wedge between the German and Austrian forces. This same wedge threatens a turning of the flank of the Teuton armies.

Marshy terrain is hampering the Russian attacks slightly, but the czar's forces are so confident of early victory, and so encouraged by the success which has so far attended their efforts, that they are disdainful of natural obstructions.

DISCOVER GAS. Timely discovery of German gas, warning of approaching Teuton attacks, enabled Russian forces in the region of Lemberg to back their feet with heavy losses before they even reached the barbed wire entanglements before the Russian positions.

The war office statement today, describing the incident, asserted that Teuton forces lost heavily and a number of machine guns and rifles were captured.

STOCKTON, Aug. 3.—Roy Tretaway, finger print expert in the sheriff's office, won a $100 reward when he captured Earl Moore, alias George Rose, wanted in Los Angeles on a burglary charge. Tretaway was riding toward the business district in a machine when he saw Moore and recognized him from a picture sent to the sheriff's office. Moore took to his heels when the officer approached, but he was soon overtaken on South California street by the fleet-footed Tretaway.

At the sheriff's office the alleged burglar admitted his identity. He said he had jumped his bail. His bondsmen offered the reward won by Tretaway.

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order. Try to eliminate thru the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, and exercise so you sweat—the skin helps to eliminate the toxic poisons and uric acid."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, swelling "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "risky" joints, stiffness, get "Aurifer" at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. # England Sees Agricultural Revival War Causes Farm Land Legislation Women Take to Work Willingly

LONDON, Aug. 3.—One of the effects of the war will be seen in a great revival of agricultural life in England and the United Kingdom. The outbreak of the conflict caught the British Isles dependent on foreign commerce for four-fifths of their food supply, barring meat, of which between 60 and 70 per cent is produced at home.

The motto of a few years ago, "Back to the land," thus has given way to the slogan, "England must feed herself." Lord Selborne, the leader of the crusade, declares that the attainment of this object is the country's sacred duty, and emphasizes the point that the farmer can do as much for the country as the soldier in the trenches.

Plans for the great reform include a number of important measures that are to be put into effect at the earliest possible moment. They include the following: 1. The repopulation of the rural districts. 2. The War Office has just consented to the exchange of many of the older men who in the earlier days of the war left farm work for the driving line for men between 19 and 30 to take their places at the front. This exchange will begin immediately.

LAND SET ASIDE. 2. The setting aside of thousands of acres for the settlement on the co-operative plan of England's soldiers and sailors after the war. This expedition is provided for by the Smallholdings (Colonies) Act, now half-way through Parliament. The scheme will provide for model villages, better housing, with a garden to every cottage, reading rooms, libraries and good schools. Conceived by Lord Selborne, the idea has aroused so much enthusiasm that a wide demand has been made for increasing the land to be devoted to it by almost as much again as is specified in the bill.

3. The importation of natives from South Africa for agricultural labor during the remainder of the war, though so many objections have been raised to this that there is little likelihood of its being adopted. It is believed that the plan for bringing back soldiers from the front will have the effect of providing sufficient farm labor practically immediately. In announcing the War Office's consent to such assistance, an expert told the Agricultural Board in England and Scotland, as well as in Ireland, the farms in many districts had fallen far below their minimum needs in the matter of labor.

The tendency to regard more seriously the country's capacity for growing larger crops is illustrated by the figures of the wheat, barley and oats crops in England and Wales. Wheat and oats were grown in larger quantities, though the barley crops were much smaller. There were 5,459,526 acres devoted to the three cereals in England and Wales in 1915, an increase of 248,044 acres as compared with 1914. The greatest increase in acreage was devoted to wheat, or 2,170,170 acres in all, the figure representing an increase of 362,672 acres (20 per cent) greater than in 1914, and 25 per cent greater than during any of the years between 1905 and 1915. Every country returned increased areas, the total for Wales of 11,325 acres (21 per cent) being the greatest.

RETURNS COMPARED. The returns for 1915 give 2,085,047 acres under oats, an increase of 158,421 acres as compared with 1914, but only 24,869 acres above the average for the past ten years. The whole of this increase was in England. The reduction of the areas under barley amounted to 158,421 acres, the total acreage of 1,231,722 being the lowest yet recorded.

Perhaps to no individual as much as to the Earl of Selborne is due the credit of bringing home to the people of all classes the importance of taking prompt measures of making the country more nearly self-supporting in food-stuffs. In all of his addresses in recent years he has laid stress on the point. A practical farmer and enthusiast on his large and fertile tract in Hampshire, he has been able to meet the objections of opponents of expert knowledge to the great advantage of his cause.

Just before resigning as president of the board of agriculture the other day as a matter of principle due to his views on the Irish question, Lord Selborne consented to review briefly the situation as to agriculture in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press.

"I have been highly gratified by the ready response of the people generally to the idea of making the country more nearly self-supporting from the soil," he said. "I have made my plea for the cultivation of the soil on the grounds of patriotism, the far and the nearest, and forward first to meet the emergency, and then the girls and women from their villages and even cities—some of the best type of women, including many of independent means, answering my call out of pure, unadulterated patriotism."

"Because of the splendid manner in which the women have taken to the occasion in this respect at a time when farm work is of vital importance to the nation, we feel justified in the belief that we are going to pull agriculture through this crisis in spite of many apparently insuperable difficulties."

Official Kick Is Made Against "Rag"

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—With a few uncensored wiggles, Robert R. Platter danced his way into the records of the county supervisors yesterday—and then danced out of trouble again. Also he brought about a difference of opinion by his rendition of some of the newer "rag" steps.

Opinions were given to the County Efficiency Commission, which was investigating the complaints made against the dancing of Platter at the county employees' picnic at Redondo Beach June 24. This is how it happened:

The day of the picnic Platter, known to his friends as "the county employee's champion rag time dancer," was in an effervescent mood. He sought the dance floor and the pretty girls thereon. When the orchestra put him into the syncopated melodies, the jubilant Platter just naturally bubbled over with happiness and his friends say that if he did apply a few extra wiggles and fancy steps during the dancing, they saw nothing wrong about it.

However, County Auditor Lewis went on record against "rag" dances in his letter to the supervisors. He said: "I feel that the modern dance is one in which any young man could be called ungentlemanly and if a young woman wishes to take offense she has ample opportunity."

The supervisors grinned and ordered the communication filed.

"Whereas, The railway managements have declined to grant the demands on the ground that the present rates of pay and working conditions are liberal, but have, nevertheless, offered to submit the issue to arbitration; and

"Whereas, The representatives of said employees have refused to submit the demands to arbitration, and a strike vote is now being taken; and

"Whereas, A strike or interruption of the service would inflict incalculable hardship on the public; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce that the Interstate Commerce Commission, a public tribunal created to deal with the transportation companies, is the proper tribunal to deal with the controversies between the railroads and their employees, as it now possesses authority to regulate rates and enforce laws enacted to safeguard the public and employees; and be it further

Agreement May End Long N. Y. Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—John R. He told Superior Judge Morgan today that Mrs. Eliza Bartholomew had given him eggs for breakfast, dinner and supper. He had them scrambled, boiled, fried and shredded and he also had omelets of all kinds and characters. He was given a decree.

PROPOSED CHINESE LOAN FALLS DOWN

Negotiations Fail, According to Letter From Bankers to State Department.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Negotiations for a loan to China by American bankers who were members of the six power group formed four years ago to finance the requirements of China have failed, it became known here today.

In a letter to the state department at Washington the bankers are said to have reviewed the whole course of the negotiations, adding that the proposed loan, seemingly could not be arranged on satisfactory terms.

The Chinese government, it is understood here, now has turned to the American international corporations with which it has had close relations in other matters.

Before the termination of the negotiations which had been under way several conferences were held, after which it was announced that a loan of about $4,000,000, to be followed later by more comprehensive financing, seemed likely to be arranged. However, when it came to discussing the conditions great difficulty was encountered.

The conclusion finally arrived at by the bankers is outlined in the communications addressed to the state department. It is in effect that to make a loan acceptable to American investors it must be secured in some way, as by the pledge of specific revenue of the Chinese government and that it be understood, should it ever be necessary to insure the carrying out of the Chinese government's obligations in this respect, that our government would lend its aid to seeing that the conditions were fulfilled.

The state department, it is understood, was unwilling to lend any such support as this to the proposed loan.

Booth Denounces Wilson Government

NAPA, Aug. 3.—Willis H. Booth, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, denounced the Wilson administration, and Governor Johnson in a speech here last night. He arrived in Napa after a strenuous day of campaigning in Marin and Sonoma counties. At San Anselmo, San Rafael, Petaluma and Sonoma he met large numbers of voters. He ended the first day of his northern tour with an open-air speech here in which he spoke vigorously for the national ticket and aroused great enthusiasm.

"The Democratic party," he declared, "is inefficient, incompetent and lacking in experience. All the chairmanships of congressional committees with one exception belong to men from the South. I am stating an historical fact when I say that for years statesmanship and leadership have come from the North. The present administration shows that the Democratic party does not measure up to the demands made upon it."

Hanford "Blind Pigs" Raided by Officers

HANFORD, Aug. 3.—Two raids here and one at Armona last night resulted in the arrest of six blind-piggers and the confiscation of wholesale quantities of liquor. The raids followed the discovery of the purpose of a detective seeking a drink and the threatening of the officer with a butcher knife by Arthur Mingo at Armona. The detective fled.

QUEER IDEAS OF TAXATION.

California has reason to be specially interested in the munitions-tax clause of the revenue bill, which has passed the House and is now under consideration in the Senate. The local powder manufacturers inform us that its first effect will be to cause a general readjustment at all munitions plants to bring about more economic operations, because of the reduced profits. They say it will mean the abandonment of the new potash plant at San Diego.

This plant is an illustration of the big risks involved in the munitions business. It is a pioneer in a field where there had been no commercial development and on the plan has been expended approximately $2,000,000 for what may be considered a large-scale experiment. We are informed that it has not yielded a dollar's return to-date and that there is no expectation of direct profits. And this is one branch of the business where the net profits are a comparatively small percentage of the gross receipts; as the federal tax is to be levied on the gross receipts it becomes a correspondingly large percentage of the net profits, so that the continued operation of the plant is extremely doubtful.

This levy on the gross receipts of a company is one of the many queer features of the McAdoo draft of the revenue bill. A tax on gross receipts is fundamentally unjust, because there is no definite nor reliable relation between gross receipts and net profits. Say, for example, net profits are 40 percent of the gross. Then this federal tax of 8 percent on the gross becomes a 25 percent on the net. If net profits are only 20 percent of the gross, the 8 percent tax is transformed into a 40 percent tax. Another unusual provision of the proposed law is that it is to be retroactive. It is to be effective from January 1, 1916, and therefore imposes the tax on business already transacted and on business under contract. The taxpayer in this case is given no opportunity to adjust his relations with his customers—in this instance entirely foreign governments—and so provide for even a partial absorption of the tax. From this standpoint it would seem that the government was aiming to put the munitions-makers out of business, rather than to make them yield revenue for the government.

If the government is to select a business generally suspected of making large profits and subject it to excessive taxation it ought to at least be fair with that business. It ought not attempt to reach back into its closed accounts and confiscate a part of the returns from past operations. A tax should be levied only upon current operations and after reasonable notice of intention to tax has been given. The entire bill as passed by the House, where it originated, suggests that it has been drafted by an inexperienced Treasury Department clerk. In none of the new items of taxation does it square with economic conditions, actual operations of business, justice, or fair dealing with the taxpayers, and—what is perhaps its gravest defect—it does not take cognizance of existing federal laws. It ought to be radically amended in the Senate or rejected in toto.

ALASKA NEEDS LIBERAL POLICY.

Present conditions in Alaska give a hint of what might be expected if the federal government would adopt a broad, imaginative policy for the development of this country, one similar to that which was behind the construction of the Panama Canal.

Figures compiled by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30 last show that 117,000,000 pounds of copper, valued at $26,500,000, was sold to the United States, four times the average for the three preceding years. Gold imported from Alaska reached the value of $16,200,000 and the salmon we bought was worth $18,333,000.

These are the three leaders. There were other items of imports and we sold a lot of supplies to the people of Alaska. They all seem to justify the expenditure of $30,000,000 by the government for the construction of a railroad in the northern territory.

If the government would change its policy of stingy paternalism and extreme conservatism for one of reasonable liberality, which would give Alaska a chance to do for itself what every other land has had an opportunity to do in the way of industrial, financial and social development, a wealthy and prosperous member of the American family would soon be created which would be of incalculable benefit to the Pacific Coast States, as well as to the nation as a whole.

A USELESS EXECUTION.

Without wishing to raise questions as to the legality of the execution of Sir Roger Casement as an Irish revolutionist or to dispute the urgency for enforcement of exemplary military severity when a nation is at war, we are justified in gravely doubting the wisdom of the British government in imposing the death sentence on this leader of the so fruitful Sinn Fein rebellion. The deliberation and apparently finely drawn observance of the legal formula in Sir Roger's case has not increased the ranks of those who approve of England's procedure.

It may reasonably be believed that Sir Roger Casement will be as valuable to the cause of Irish independence dead as he has been living. Certainly he is only a phase of the spirit that touches all Irishmen and their sympathizers everywhere, in greater or less degree. Sir Roger was conscious that his execution would do much to fortify the opposition to British rule and give new life to the rebellion. He has so shaped his conduct since being arrested as to give greatest effect to his sentence by an English court.

The unbending attitude of the British government and the recent collapse of the Lloyd George-Redmond-Carson plan for partial home rule promises new and violent troubles for the people of Ireland and for the government of the United Kingdom. Certain it is that the execution of Casement and the failure of Lloyd George compromise have meant no progress toward a peaceful settlement.

TAXING CHARITIES.

There is room for an honest difference of opinion concerning the position taken by the mayor and commissioner of revenue and finance Monday in refusing to permit the reduction of assessments on charitable and semi-charitable institutions. It has been the custom for many years to grant the pleas of the directors of these institutions that the valuations placed upon their properties should be reduced to a minimum figure, on the ground that the property was not revenue-producing and was an actual benefit to the community.

It may be argued, on the other hand, that these charities are maintained strictly from the voluntary contributions from individuals in the community. The lowering of the assessment would be in effect to levy upon the remaining taxpayers for an involuntary contribution to these institutions. The community as such exercises no efficient control over these institutions. There is no way of checking extravagance or duplication of activity. The ordinary citizen has not voted that he should maintain such organizations. He may justly complain if he is forced, by an act of the City Council, to assist toward their support.

But the institutions in themselves are laudable, are given to useful purposes. We have nothing but commendation for those members of the City Council who desired to lessen their burden. It is well, however, to realize that in this matter there is room for honest differences, and that criticism should not be meted out to either side for its honest adherence to the principles in which it believes.

Commissioner Jackson is quoted as saying that the result of the recall election of Tuesday is an endorsement of his policies. We believe Dr. Jackson has committed a grievous error in so interpreting the vote. It is not to be considered as an endorsement of any policy or lack of policy on the part of city officials; nor is it to be construed as a vote of approval of anybody's official record. Only thirty-five percent of the registered vote was cast, and of this Dr. Jackson received 10,633, while his opponents polled a combined vote of 14,257, or 3624 more than Dr. Jackson. The great majority of the voters were simply disgusted with the recall and sore because a useless special election had been forced upon the community. Recall elections, disturbers of civic peace, are always to be regretted and we hope to avoid them in the future. No one participating in or supporting the recall election can preen himself on having achieved a victory and we trust that the good sense of Commissioners Anderson and Baccus will cause them to frown upon suggestions for "reprisals" on behalf of Commissioner Jackson. We hope that all members of the city administration will display enough consideration for the welfare of the community to get earnestly down to the work of transacting the business of their offices for the benefit of the community.

A candidate for office at the recall election considers the 122 votes he polled as significant. We agree with him, indeed, we do.

NOTES and COMMENT

The attempt to cavil at Hughes' acceptance letter, by a New York paper, is adjudged from this distance to be lame and impotent.

The thief who stole seventy-two sacks of cement appears to be one of those who works at it. Some job to get away with and conceal four tons of bulky booty.

Professor Diller, after a month's study, decides that Mr. Lassen is not dangerous. And there isn't any doubt that he can see into a fiery mountain as far as the next one.

Mrs. Mooney, alleged dynamite accomplice, plays her violin in her cell, and has the advantage of some other performers in that her audience can't help themselves.

The Petaluma Argus has a serious item concerning the return of the Butin family from an automobile trip. It is a real family name—Butin—and not the appellation generally applied to those who obtrude.

A Marysville judge has performed the marriage ceremony 1384 times in eighteen years. If there was some way of gathering the comparative statistics as to the resultant joys and sorrows, it would be interesting.

The failure of the latest attempted recall evinces disgust at the unwise and petulant use of the law more than an approval of the status quo ante, it is very probable. The recall has proved a very unpopular proceeding.

This is a brisk age, indeed. Here is a woman of the experienced and seasoned age of 17 suing for a divorce on the ground that her husband is too old and set in his ways—that she finds it impossible to "make him what a husband should be."

St. Louis is having an experience similar to ours in the sale of a railroad under foreclosure. The "Frisco" line went under the hammer, same as our Western Pacific. There are contentions over the sale, though not exactly of the nature of those out here.

Nevada City is inviting fame on account of a man who "has stayed at home twenty years." A man who stays home, resisting the allurements of "Europe, Asia, Africa and part of Oceania," as the old-time geographers use to have it, is certainly different from some others.

What is apparently needed is a state law against auto speeders. The activities and persecutions of the country constable are becoming intolerable. What is also needed is a more definite acknowledgment on the part of auto drivers of the rights and safety of others on public highways.

Painting conspicuously on the department autos the words "Oakland Board of Education" is believed to be a plan that will prevent the vehicles being surreptitiously used for joy riding. The abuse seems to be one that all municipal departments are afflicted with, and the plan may prove a remedy.

Major Kay of First Cavalry, N. G. C., who spent a month on the frontier from his duties as a civil official of Sacramento, is home and refuses to accept the civil salary for the time he was absent. He declines double pay. All such are entitled to a medal. It will not require many to go around.

A San Francisco wife has been granted a divorce because her husband allowed her but two cents a day for support. He might have stretched it to at least five as a business proposition, for the court now compels him to pay $40 a month, which amounts to the fabulous sum of $1.33 a day, without his right to demand to know what she does with all that money.

According to reports of the fruit agencies, the pear crop in the Nevada City, Grass Valley and Colfax districts will stand out as a record. A notable feature of conditions is that the majority of growers are paying more attention to questions of quality and the standard of the pack. The Stockton Record perpetrates this one: "By agreeing to accept election to the United States Senate, Governor Johnson has cut the Gordian knot of uncertainty in California politics." That item belongs to the comic supplement in three colors. "Agreeing to accept" is great stuff.—Santa Ana Blade.

THE TAX ON CHARITIES.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
For the past three years both the city and the county authorities remitted the taxes on certain charitable and helpful organizations which were not run for profit, and did not receive any county or city aid in their support.

Mayor Davis and Commissioner Edwards suddenly seemed to acquire an economic streak and voted down their customary reduction, though their fellow commissioners of the city council Mr. Anderson and Mr. Baccus stood for the more generous policy.
The writer interested only as a patron of one of these institutions speaks for them all. He does not, nor do others interested question the motives of the opposing members but believes they have not weighed both sides of the question. These institutions relieve a much larger burden from the public than their taxes amount to. If they do not support some of the needy or helpless these must become a charge on the community at a much larger cost. These institutions are not run for profit; on the contrary they are a charge on a number of persons. The superintendents, matrons or other persons in charge are poorly remunerated for their labors; their institutions support many more individuals than would the same proportional income in public institutions. They thus relieve the city government of so much responsibility; and it seems to us that the least the city authorities could do, as the county itself has done, would be to relieve these institutions from helping support the public tax budget. We think this issue deserves public attention and should not be lost by default of proper consideration.

UNPREPAREDNESS WISDOM.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
Why all this foolish talk and agitation about preparedness? Who doubts but we are all willing to fight and defend our country when the necessity arises?

It is time enough to talk about organizing a fire department when the town begins to burn. Every one of us would turn out in an emergency. Fires are not going to start all over town at the same time and if every one of us brings a bucket of water in each hand, figure it out for yourself, six gallons per person, or in round figures over a million gallons for the entire population, besides which we could make a number of trips before lunch. Why, I fear the danger of flood would be greater than the danger from fire.

Furthermore, if people would scrupulously confine fire to the fireplace, which is the proper and logical place for it, we would be able to entirely eliminate this enormous expense of maintaining fire departments with all its costly apparatus and equipments. Personally I never use fire, except for cooking my frugal meals, or making a little pink tea, and as to fighting or war—why I couldn't imagine myself in anything of that nature, for verily it takes two to make a quarrel and if a person does not resist there can be no fight, consequently no war. And haven't we the most brilliant statesmen that the world has ever produced? Haven't we treaties with the different nations which bind us mutually not to begin hostilities until one year after the beginning of a dispute?
If the foreign nations in their blind ignorance should attempt to violate such a lofty agreement, we on our part would certainly under all circumstances insist upon living up to it, and absolutely refuse to fight, until the stipulated time had eloped. Did not the intangible William Jennings Bryan state: that there can be no ultimatum, no last word between friends. While the diplomats are sparring for the last word we shall have ample time to convert some of our plowshares into swords.

Has not Sir Wilson shown; time and again, that he has perfect control of the situation? What with all the hairbreadth escapes, hasn't he saved the nation from war so often that it is beginning to be monotonous. Hasn't he blockaded foreign ports, laid down the laws to nations, marched our army into foreign lands, and yet there is no war. Oh, ye of little faith—what small potatoes ye are.

Preparedness—the very word gives me indigestion. Consider where it will lead us. We will be in the position of a small boy with a new pocket knife who cannot resist the temptation of trying it out on the furniture. Look at Belgium, the horrible example. The Kaiser merely wanted to take a short cut through their beet-fields. If they had been properly unprepared, as they should have been, their government would have charged the enemy with notes, protests, yea, any number of ultimatums.

The good Kaiser upon arrival in Paris by the short cut would undoubtedly have returned all their notes, possibly with interest at current rates, and relinquished the territory occupied, unless he found himself in dire need of material for the manufacture of iron crosses, in which case the seizure would have been justified as a military necessity and for the good of humanity.

Finally, be it peace or war, let us never forget that we did not raise our boys to be soldiers.

WARNING UP.

Mr. Wilson does well to renew his conferences with the newspaper men in Washington. At the outset of his administration he was very cordial to them; the Washington correspondents, so he assured them, were to be his most valuable allies in ascertaining public opinion. By their opportunities for knowing of home affairs, he would profit. For a time things went smoothly. Then the correspondents began to suffer from the change that transformed the Wilson who as Governor of New Jersey sat with open door accessible to every citizen, into Wilson the most secluded and inaccessible President the capital had ever seen. Soon the newspaper conferences became irregular; next, one subject after another was taboo, and not to be touched upon by anybody's question. The President was plainly less and less at ease, and then, about a year ago, the meetings ceased. Thereafter, only occasionally did a correspondent reach the holy of holies. Just how much will come of the new plan depends, of course, on the President's attitude and the extent to which he is disposed to be frank and take the newspaper men into his confidence. Half-satisfactory meetings will, however, be better than none. The American people will never, in the long run, approve of a policy of seclusion by a high executive, either in a State or in the nation.—The Nation.

OFFER PLAN
FOR BETTER
CAR SERVICE

Right of Purchase, Indeterminate Franchise, Sharing in Control of Management, Among Features Proposed

Special Committee of Chamber of Commerce Keeps Needs and Powers of City in Mind in Formulating Its Report

Guarding of the city's rights and a share in transportation earnings are the features of a plan which will be submitted to the city council by the Chamber of Commerce special committee which has been considering the position of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company. At the same time the plan will provide for the right of purchase, for a share by the city in the company's control and for such an indeterminate franchise as will protect invested capital.

The special investigation committee, appointed June 5, at a meeting attended by prominent business men, representatives from civic organizations, chambers of commerce of Alameda county and the mayors and councilmen of the various communities, reported its findings to the general committee last night at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

The special committee, under the chairmanship of B. A. Forster, was entrusted with the duty of ascertaining, if possible, what remedy should and could be applied to the distressing conditions of the whole transportation problem of this community. Thorough examination was made of all the circumstances leading up to the settlement plan recently adopted in Kansas City and similar settlements made in Chicago, Cleveland and other large communities.

RE-SETTLEMENT RECOMMENDED: The committee endeavored to pick out from these various plans such features as it was thought would prove most efficient in their adaptation to the local situation.

The charter amendments as submitted last night enable the city council with the co-operation of an advisory board to effect a re-settlement with the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway upon the basis of an indeterminate franchise, which will cover all the streets and public places now used or hereafter to be used by the street railway, suburban or interurban electric lines.

Under the proposed plan the city will have the right to take over all the property of the public utility at any time the people desire to do so, the valuation of the public utility to be fixed by the railroad commission at the beginning of the indeterminate franchise and the people's interest being safe-guarded permanently through a board of control in which the people's representative will have equal authority with the representative of the public utility.

The committee endeavored to devise a plan under which the people of Oakland would, first above all, receive the most efficient service, by which they would have an absolute right to acquire the property whenever it should be deemed advisable, would have a large part in the control of the public utility and would receive the major portion of the net earnings of the public utility, at the same time safeguarding the actual home side investment of the utility corporation so that all needed funds could be procured for the rehabilitation and extension of the present street car system.

WILL SUBMIT PLAN: Last night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce lasted for several hours, as those present went with thoroughness into the report of the special committee, discussing every phase of the proposed amendments and making several changes in the report.

At the conclusion of the meeting the special committee was directed to re-draft its report embodying therein such changes as had been decided, the committee being empowered to submit the amendments to the city council.

Chairman Forster called a meeting of the special committee for this afternoon at 8 o'clock, when the final draft of the proposed amendment was accomplished, and the whole matter placed in proper shape to be submitted to the council not later than next Monday afternoon.

Blue Bird
Bureau

The melancholy days are come
The saddest of the year,
When little Willie, very glum,
Says "Mornin', teacher, dear!"

Figuratively speaking, the Blue Bird Bureau rolled up its sleeves this morning and prepared to get down to serious work. With the vacation season over thousands of Oakland school children swarmed to their class rooms this morning. And not all of them were very happy. In most cases the unhappiness was merely a regret for the good times which vacation had brought. But in some cases childish hearts were heavy because of home troubles and the slight of more prosperous and comfortably clad playmates.

The bureau has no means of estimating at this time the number of children who were prevented from attending the Oakland day schools by the lack of decent wearing apparel. But it has reason to believe that the number is very large. Several school principals told us of many cases where women came to them and told them it would be impossible for their children to attend school because they owned neither shoes nor stockings. The need for children's underwear, stockings and shoes and plain serviceable garments was never greater. The Blue Bird Bureau has a day wash room now at the Harrison school, Fourth and Harrison streets, and a volunteer corps of women will work there every Thursday preparing clothing for distribution the following day. On Fridays such clothing as is available will be given to children of any school who present notes from their teachers or school principals testifying to their need. No clothing will be given without such orders.

At present the Bureau's wardrobe is practically depleted, and little can be accomplished this week in meeting the demands upon it. If mothers and fathers would only telephone Lakeland 6000 if they have any suitable school garments, the Bureau will send out a messenger on a motorcycle to gather in the articles.

Clothing for children of grammar school age is urgently needed. Call Lakeland 6000 and ask for the Blue Bird Bureau. Someone will call.

Just when the Blue Bird was beginning to ruffle its feathers—a sure sign that its feelings were hurt—a message came this morning which settled temporarily the case of the little chap whose hands were so badly burned as a result of his heroic efforts to rescue his grandmother from their burning home. The bureau lacked six dollars with which to pay for anesthetic and hospital fee, and no one had come forward to foot the bill. To day a certain association of splendid women who are connected with one of the large hospitals of the city took our friend under its protection, and that was all that was necessary. The boy's right hand will be restored to use without cost to him, and we receive the same skilled attention and care that would be given by a man of unlimited means. Now, don't all of you feel better?

A big bundle of clothing came to us this morning by express from the little town of Pittsburg, where the bureau has quite a few willing assistants. Quite a number of the material, and the rest can be made over by the sewing machine. The bureau has so many cases only too plentifully true that it hopes the generous public will utilize this channel for its volunteer rather than be imposed upon.

The Blue Bird Bureau sent out an investigator at once who reported there was no such address and no one of that description living in the neighborhood.

"Next time," said Mrs. H., when she had received the report, "if telephone you before hand."

The bureau has so many cases only too plentifully true that it hopes the generous public will utilize this channel for its volunteer rather than be imposed upon.

The police have been asked to aid in the search for Robert Graham of 553 Fortieth street, who disappeared last night, following a quarrel with a playmate in which blows were exchanged. The lad, evidently frightened at his act, and believing his opponent hurt, ran away. Mrs. Ben Wood, the boy's grandmother, gave the information to the police.

Robert is 11 years old, weighs 55 pounds and is three feet, six inches tall. Before his disappearance he wore a blue shirt-waist, brown corduroy trousers and a dirty white baseball cap.

Police aid has also been asked in the search for William Higgins, 753 Twenty-sixth street, who disappeared from his home Tuesday night and has not been seen since. He told his wife that he was to meet a man whose name or business is unknown to her. When he left the house he had $65 in coin. Mrs. Higgins, who reported the matter to the police, fears that he might have met foul play.

Higgins is described as 26 years old, six feet in height and weighing 170 pounds. When he left home he was wearing a dark blue suit, black shoes and a black hat.

Cholera Delays
Japanese Ship

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 3.—The Japanese steamship Hawaii Maru, bound from Oriental ports for Tacoma, Wash., has been indefinitely quarantined at this port owing to the outbreak of cholera on board. Fifteen cases of the disease were found in the steerage, four of them proving fatal.

It is declared that most of the passengers embarked on the Maru at Manila, but the port origin of the disease is not known.

CANDIDATE TO SPEAK: Arthur E. Reimer of Boston, Mass., presidential candidate of the Socialist Labor party for the November election, will speak at Hamilton Hall, Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, Saturday evening, August 5. Reimer will speak on campaign issues. The public has been invited.

CAN YOU GIVE THIS BOY A JOB?

In conformity with the policy of the Blue Bird Bureau it is seeking employment for boys who need it. We respectfully urge upon your consideration today the following cases, No. 250. In referring to cases please state number.

This boy, age 15, Italian descent, brought to the attention of the Juvenile Court for incorrigibility and general parental disobedience. The facts are that the boy is inclined to be a laggard and his father insists upon his helping in housework and construction work. Disagreements result.

Apprentice work in one of the simpler trades would be very suitable for this boy.

Just now the Blue Bird Bureau is very much in need of boys' clothing and boys' shoes.

If you have no shoes outgrown by your own children, a check for any amount, for the purpose of securing boys' shoes will be very acceptable.

If you want some one to call for juvenile clothing of any kind, boys', girls', or babies', phone Oakland 7235.

For all other information pertaining to the work of this bureau ring up Lakeland 6000.

We are sending out to one of the children's homes today the jolliest lot of picture books and games you ever saw. The collection represents the gifts of many mothers and fathers whose own children had outgrown Mother Goose and Nelly Bly. Where we are sending the games and books, few of the children have ever seen such treasures and we can picture many an evening of fun when the youngsters gather in the playroom and receive the precious presents.

We wish more people would telephone Lakeland 6000 when they have old jobs for men and women. Yesterday a woman telephoned to ask us whether we knew of someone who could crochet. It just happened that we were trying to obtain more work for women who made their livelihood in that manner. It required but the exchange of telephone numbers to do both people a service.

Mrs. H. of Piedmont telephoned to the bureau yesterday that a woman had called on her the night before with a pitiful story of starving children at home. "I guess her husband told her that that would do more if I found her story to be true. Here is the address she gave me. Will you please investigate?"

The Blue Bird Bureau sent out an investigator at once who reported there was no such address and no one of that description living in the neighborhood.

"Next time," said Mrs. H., when she had received the report, "if telephone you before hand."

The bureau has so many cases only too plentifully true that it hopes the generous public will utilize this channel for its volunteer rather than be imposed upon.

It's the most worrisome bit of plotting Captain Zach has had to handle in many a day.

It has been understood Captain Zach plans to work his way along the coast north of south to the merging, putting into some port if forced to do so by the enemy patrol. He desired to drive out into the Atlantic the moment he was sure the coast was clear.

The United States cruiser North Carolina, assigned to neutrality duty, was ordered in from the capes today, indicating the belief of government officials at least that danger of neutrality violation has passed.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Naval officers here are watching the reported progress of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland with considerable interest, but express little hope that she will not make the homeward voyage safely. An official of the British admiralty, discussing the possibility of the undersea liner not getting away safely, declared the British navy had no policy to announce in regard to the operations against her, except the determination to arrest her if possible.

He declined to discuss the question whether the Deutschland would be sunk if sighted by a British warship, but said he believed the statement that Great Britain was determined not to recognize the boat as an ordinary merchantman.

In the last spasms of arsenic poisoning the prospector was found by miners who were traveling to Skidoo. So exhausted was the prospector that he had dropped down on the edge of the pool. The water that was killing him soaked through his clothes. As the drying man was found he sought to tell his rescuers something, his name or perhaps the location of a gold strike. He lapsed into unconsciousness from which a physician at Bonax station, where he was taken, could not revive him. Under Sheriff P. G. McLean returned from the region last night. The temperature reached 135 degrees, says the officer. The miner was about 60 years old.

CONVICTED OF TREASON: VIENNA, Aug. 2, via London.—After a fortnight trial before the Landwehr divisional tribunal of the Reichsrath, deputies Choc, Burival, Vojna and Netolicky have been convicted as accessories to high treason of Professor Masaryk, who fled the country. Choc was sentenced to six years' imprisonment. Burival to five years and Vojna and Netolicky each to one year.

MEANWHILE the other members of the board have remained silent on the question. One did, however, say he was reminded of several years ago when a chief of police decorated the city jail with paper poppies and palms. The question that also arose then, he said, was "what will water the poppies?"

And if Hamilton's roof garden contemplates flowers," he said, "who will water the flowers?"

Los Angeles Plans
Roof Garden on Jail

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Here is the latest proposed county improvement—a roof garden for the county jail. This was made public yesterday by Supervisor Hamilton at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Hamilton declared he felt sorry for the women who are forced to spend days in prison. He said that so greatly had this preyed upon his mind that he had conceived the idea of constructing a roof garden upon the jail.

Hamilton said that he had even gone so far as to ask the county mechanical department about it, and that he had instructed that department to prepare tentative plans. As soon as they are ready he is going to submit them to the board.

Meanwhile the other members of the board have remained silent on the question. One did, however, say he was reminded of several years ago when a chief of police decorated the city jail with paper poppies and palms. The question that also arose then, he said, was "what will water the poppies?"

And if Hamilton's roof garden contemplates flowers," he said, "who will water the flowers?"

Deutschland Submerges as She Passes Beyond Protection of United States, and British War Craft Is Baffled

Mariners Who Waved Farewell to Little Vessel Firmly of Belief She Will Make Home Port; English Not Hopeful

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 3.—Safely past the allied warship patrol, the submarine merchantman Deutschland is speeding through the Atlantic toward her home port of Bremen. Reports coming from the water front indicate the pioneer submarine blockade runner has not poked her periscope above the water since she submerged near the capes last night. At that time the nearest British warship was five miles distant according to the tug Thomas P. Timmins, which accompanied the Deutschland as far as the capes.

Expectation of a thrilling chase and perhaps some sort of a fight in connection with the Deutschland's departure was disappointed. Folks on shore saw nothing and sightseers who filled big and little harbor craft saw little more. In the dark the Deutschland slipped out to the boundary edge of the United States territorial waters, ducked under water and disappeared.

From Cape Henry came the word long after sunrise that no sign had been seen of the Deutschland. A single British war craft lay off Cape Henry light and not another vessel was in sight.

Weather conditions favor the allied patrol, however, not the Deutschland. The cable observer reports a clear sky and only a slight breeze.

SEE SUBMERGERS: The submarine's actual submergence was witnessed only by her pilot tug, the Timmins, and those aboard. The Timmins were not close enough to be sure they had seen the dive made until wave after wave of the heavy sea had come up and gone down without the submarine's light again showing.

The submarine was marked about a mile outside the capes. The Timmins crew reported when they put into Norfolk early today.

Captain Hinch of the interned German liner Neckar, who was aboard the Timmins, said the last act of Captain Koenig and his crew before they went below was to give three cheers for America and the American people. This was as they neared the capes. Then all disappeared from the upper structure of the submarine.

Captain Koenig being last to descend, shouting a farewell to Captain Hinch as he disappeared.

"That's the last that will be seen of her until she bobs up in Bremen," declared Captain Hinch.

"I'm glad she's gone," declared Captain Hinch.

It's the most worrisome bit of plotting Captain Zach has had to handle in many a day.

It has been understood Captain Zach plans to work his way along the coast north of south to the merging, putting into some port if forced to do so by the enemy patrol. He desired to drive out into the Atlantic the moment he was sure the coast was clear.

The United States cruiser North Carolina, assigned to neutrality duty, was ordered in from the capes today, indicating the belief of government officials at least that danger of neutrality violation has passed.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Naval officers here are watching the reported progress of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland with considerable interest, but express little hope that she will not make the homeward voyage safely. An official of the British admiralty, discussing the possibility of the undersea liner not getting away safely, declared the British navy had no policy to announce in regard to the operations against her, except the determination to arrest her if possible.

He declined to discuss the question whether the Deutschland would be sunk if sighted by a British warship, but said he believed the statement that Great Britain was determined not to recognize the boat as an ordinary merchantman.

In the last spasms of arsenic poisoning the prospector was found by miners who were traveling to Skidoo. So exhausted was the prospector that he had dropped down on the edge of the pool. The water that was killing him soaked through his clothes. As the drying man was found he sought to tell his rescuers something, his name or perhaps the location of a gold strike. He lapsed into unconsciousness from which a physician at Bonax station, where he was taken, could not revive him. Under Sheriff P. G. McLean returned from the region last night. The temperature reached 135 degrees, says the officer. The miner was about 60 years old.

CONVICTED OF TREASON: VIENNA, Aug. 2, via London.—After a fortnight trial before the Landwehr divisional tribunal of the Reichsrath, deputies Choc, Burival, Vojna and Netolicky have been convicted as accessories to high treason of Professor Masaryk, who fled the country. Choc was sentenced to six years' imprisonment. Burival to five years and Vojna and Netolicky each to one year.

MEANWHILE the other members of the board have remained silent on the question. One did, however, say he was reminded of several years ago when a chief of police decorated the city jail with paper poppies and palms. The question that also arose then, he said, was "what will water the poppies?"

UNDOING OF
ROBBER GANG

Return to Complete Rifling of Drugged Victim's Pocket and Are Betrayed to Police by the Driver of Machine

"Knockout Drops" Are Beginning of Plot Hatched by Trio Against Whom Suspicion of Other Crimes Is Charged

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—A mixture of knockout drops accompanying a few cocktails, a wild dash in a jitney, a convenient dark corner on the waterfront and prompt work on the part of the police were preliminaries this morning to the arrest of three alleged robbers whose victim is at the Harbor Emergency Hospital. The men in custody are Harry Wilson, James Barney and Edward Mitchell. Their victim is Elvett W. Jackson, 38 Joyce street, who conducts an electrical establishment at Sutter and Powell streets.

The plot had its inception at a hall at the German House, Morton Mills of 1050 Divisadero street was resting in his jitney outside talking to a friend, Frances Schwarz at 2:45 a. m. when three men hired his car. They went into the ballroom and returned with Jackson. Melis was ordered to speed to Broadway and Davis streets.

There he and Schwarz were surprised to see Jackson thrown to the floor of the car and his pockets ransacked. He was then pitched to the street and under pain of death Melis was ordered to drive to Pacific and Kearny streets.

He obeyed and the trio spent their time quarreling over the fact that while they knew Jackson had $15 they had obtained only $8 and were determined to go back and search his pockets again. They did not do so and after dropping them Melis and Schwarz hurried to the Bush street station.

Patrolmen Barrett and Traeger accompanied them to the Barbary Coast and the three suspects were arrested. They were taken to the water front and Jackson was found and conveyed to the Harbor Emergency Hospital. He was robbed of $200 and struck over the head with a blunt instrument. He is at the Harbor Emergency Hospital and will be taken later to headquarters in an attempt to identify the men under arrest.

The same robbers may have been responsible for the holding up of James Kelly of Walla Walla, Washington at Sixth and Mission streets. He was robbed of $200 and struck over the head with a blunt instrument. He is at the Harbor Emergency Hospital and will be taken later to headquarters in an attempt to identify the men under arrest.

Five-Year Record of Four Marriages, One Divorce and One Annulment Is Achieved by Chauffeur Ralph Botsford

Leads Newest Bride to Altar While Former Spouse, When Told of Nuptials, Exclaims: "I Am Sorry for Audrey!"

Three wives, four marriage ceremonies, one divorce and one annulment in less than five years constitute the matrimonial record of Ralph H. Botsford, an Oakland chauffeur, 25 years of age, who was married last evening to Miss Audrey McLaughlin of 900 Loomis street. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Aaron Turner, who acted as attorney for the groom in securing a divorce from his first wife.

"I am sorry for Audrey," was the incoherent comment of Miss Laura M. Loring of 866 Isabella street, who was twice wed to Botsford and then restored to her single station by an annulment decree. Further remarks on the marriage of her former husband and one of her personal friends she would not make.

Botsford and his first wife were married in Des Moines, Ia., in November, 1911. A year or two later they came to Oakland and lived at 2411 Persimmon street. In October, 1914, the wife filed suit for divorce, alleging cruelty. Botsford at first did not answer the suit, but after he learned that his wife had asked for alimony he entered a cross-complaint in which he named Sam Sherman as co-respondent. The inferior court granted a decree of divorce was granted to him as well as the custody of his 4-year-old daughter, Helen Agnes Botsford.

On February 14, 1916, Botsford and Miss Laura Loring, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Loring, were married at the home of Mrs. Loring. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace O'Brien. Botsford, however, had overlooked the formality of securing his final decree of divorce. Returning to Oakland the couple obtained an annulment. Botsford procured the final decree and a second marriage ceremony was performed in San Jose on February 16.

On the very day of the re-marriage the bride was suddenly stricken with acute appendicitis and underwent an operation, which led to a temporary separation, which was taken advantage of by Mrs. Loring to commence annulment proceedings on the ground that her daughter was under age. The marriage was set aside and Botsford was left a single man after having been married for a brief and triply married.

TRAINER "DOC" MORRIS, WHO IS IN LINE FOR THE POST OF UNIVERSITY CONDITIONER, AND FABRE, THE CANADIAN MARATHONER WHOM MORRIS PREPARED FOR HIS EXPOSITION VICTORY.

TRIBUNE MARATHON RUNNERS
SHOULD READ THE RULES

Must Be Members of P. A. A. in Order to Compete
September 9

In order to play the game you have to know the rules. There are rules to the Tribune Marathon, and too often in the past many of the runners who have entered the race have been disappointed just because they did not know the rules of the race, or because they did not take the trouble to find out what some of the regulations meant.

Every year there are many boys who send in their entries with no registration number marked. One recently sent in a request for an entry, and it was mailed to him along with a letter. In the letter the writer cautioned the boy against sending in the entry without registering in the P. A. A. and yet the entry blank was returned, with the name and address filled in, and no registration number specified.

That boy had read the TRIBUNE before the race, but he had not read the rules. Too many of our boys are growing to manhood with perfectly good running legs, and fine throwing arms, but no wish to exercise their upper story. If that boy had read the entry blank with its full field of trotters quite as successful as the one he had sent in, he would have seen that registration is necessary.

Registration in the P. A. A. is no side graft in this race. Some boys think that they are paying to run when they give up twenty-five cents for registration in the Pacific Amateur Association, but they are doing nothing of the kind. In order to compete in any sanctioned amateur event one must be registered, and by registering one in the P. A. A. an athlete can compete as an amateur for a period of one year. That twenty-five cents is an insurance for the athlete that he will be obliged to compete only against clean and simple pure amateurs during the year.

"DOC" MORRIS MAY
GRAB VOLZ' JOB
AT BERKELEY

Conditioner of Diamond Athletes Hopes to Get Position as Trainer of Bears.

"Doc" Morris, former trainer of the Chicago White Sox and Oakland baseball club, and one of the most experienced handlers of athletes in the country, may be the next trainer of the University of California Varsity teams. It was rumored today that if he lands the job, "Doc" will attempt to fill the shoes of Charley Volz, veteran trainer of the Bears, who left his old post to act as coach for the Oakland Technical High school teams.

Graduate Manager Johnny Stroud will confer with Volz tomorrow in an effort to bring Charley back again to the Blue and Gold institution. Meanwhile Volz is working daily at Tech High, putting in readiness for the 1916 football season which starts next week. Unless more lucrative terms are offered to Volz than those which he received last year, Volz will stick with the Tech institution.

As for Morris, "Doc" has seen plenty of experience in the role of trainer. He is an expert on conditioning men and has handled such world renowned athletes as Fabre, who won the Exposition marathon race, Don Ahern, champion in the hop-skip-and-jump event, Joe Kist, national champion miler, and several members of the New York Athletic Club track team when that organization competed in the Exposition games.

TACOMA LEAD

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 3. — Much better tennis marked the third day's play of the Pacific Northwest Tennis tour here yesterday. John Strachan and William Marcus, both of San Francisco and favorites for the position of finalists, continued their march into the fourth round without serious interruption. Strachan is already in the semifinals and Marcus has one more match to play before reaching that position.

MISS ANITA MYERS and Miss Helen Baker, also from San Francisco, won their match. Striking finish marked the victory of Miss Myers over Mrs. J. C. Cushing of Oakland, Cal. The match was sensational. Miss Myers winning the first set, 6-4, and playing a hard-fought second set only to lose with the score reversed. The third and final set saw Miss Myers through clever placement keep her opponent dashing from one side of the court to the other. With the final score of 6-3 in favor of Miss Myers, Mrs. Cushing advanced to the net to shake hands with the victor. As she stretched her arm across the net, she fell in a swoon and was carried from the court. She recovered soon afterward.

TOTAL OPERATIONS EXTREMELY LIGHT

Price Movements on Wall Street Today Are Within Narrow Limits

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Total operations in the greater number of issues in which sales were reported were extremely light, while in the best part of the day price movements were within narrow limits except in a few stocks, which were affected by considerations with a special bearing upon the companies represented.

Transactions of the professional element provided the bulk of the business. To some extent the early strength in the cotton and wheat markets served to restrain speculative business in securities for the good reason that the advances in the two commodities were based upon reports showing serious injury to the growing crops from adverse climatic conditions.

Covering was reported in the motor and a quiet demand was noted for United States Steel and some of the rails, with Reading and Union Pacific prominent.

Selling of the sugar shares to lower levels accompanied the forenoon dealings, substantial losses being made by American Beet Sugar and Cuba Cane, the movement in the latter having earmarks of liquidation.

General trading was extensive early afternoon and price movements were erratic, with only fractional changes in most parts of the list.

At times trading came almost to a standstill with the little business transacted confined to a few issues, including Texas Company shares, which were decidedly weak on pressure from the bears against known weak accounts.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN LONDON. In London, from some activity and improvement in the London market, the stock market was uninteresting today. American securities were neglected. Money and discount rates were steady.

Movements of representative American securities in the London Stock Exchange today included the following price changes: Advances—Aetna, Canadian Pacific, 3 1/2; Missouri, Kansas & Texas, 2 1/2; Southern Railway, 1 1/2; American Sugar, 1 1/2; Union Pacific, 1 1/2; United States Steel, 1 1/2.

NEW YORK STOCK RANGE. The following quotations of prices of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange are from E. F. Hutton & Co.'s private wires, members of the New York Stock Exchange, with offices at the First National Bank building:

We have used the light of Truth. We have torn down false standards. We have turned inside out all the traditions that were good enough in years gone by. We have pushed Habit back and pushed Honesty ahead. We've done away with every penny of unnecessary expense of doing business. We've come down to earth in our commercial ideas; and radical actions such as these have made it possible for us to offer you.
